Banners carried by demonstrators read, in Japanese, "Demand immediate resignation of Kishi and dissolution of the diet" (large oblong banner) and "Don't come Ike." (partly hidden banner.) Atlas Missile Bases Struck By Machinists

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Key Atlas missile bases from California to Florida were struck today in a contract dispute between Convair and the International Assn. of Machinists.

The strike could affect test firing of the Atlas, the United States only operational intercontinental range rocket.

An Air Force spokesman said war-readiness at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., the nation's only operational intercontinental ballistic missile base, will be maintained despite the walkout.

About 800 IAM members struck Cape Canaveral, Fla., missile test center. Picket lines were set up at midnight. Also struck was the Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., Warren Air Force Base, Cheyenne, Wyo., and four facilities of Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha, Neb.

Convair officials in San Diego said the strike definitely would affect firing of the big missiles. IAM members, 330 strong, also struck the Holloman, N.M., Air Force Base facility of Convair. But this strike stemmed more from a local issue than from the national negotiations that broke (Continued on Page 2)

Stolen Shotgun Linked to Ambush

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A shotgun stolen in Erie, Pa., and a used car purchased May 10 in Canton by a man who gave a false address were used in the wounding of Joseph (Stoneface) Romano, 60, Youngstown gambler, in an ambush here Saturday morning.

Detectives believe the gun was stolen from a sporting goods store in an Erie suburb and the car purchased in Canton in preparation for the attempted slaying of Romano, who is in serious condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He was wounded in the right shoulder, chest and abdomen.

Romano told police he did not know the two men who fired at him and knew no reason for the attack. He was not armed.

Ike Visits Old Classmates In Reunion at West Point

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—President Eisenhower is back among his West Point classmates of 1915 today after a one-two rap at Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and a round of warm public receptions.

The President, taking part in a full day of activities, decided to fly back to Washington Tuesday morning instead of late tonight after another reunion dinner.

His program today includes the traditional march with the men of his class, a review of the cadet corps on the plain above the Hudson River, and a brief speech at an alumni luncheon.

Eisenhower arrived at the United States Military Academy Saturday afternoon, then interrupted his visit Sunday to fly to South Bend, Ind., to accept an honorary degree and make the commencement address at the University of Notre Dame.

He returned to West Point in the early evening.

At Notre Dame the President took a crack at world leaders he accused of brandishing "angry epithets, slogans and satellites."

He called them enemies of human dignity. Eisenhower didn't mention Khrushchev by name, but there was no doubt the Kremlin leader was a target. It was the second time within 48 hours that the President had jabbed at the man who has been vilifying him for three weeks. Saturday night Eisenhower left the 45th reunion dinner of his class and made an informal talk near West Point at a Republican banquet. He reminisced a few moments about his cadet days and then turned specifically to the Khrushchev tirades against him.

"Many of the excesses, particularly the ill-tempered expressions of Mr. Khrushchev, have really brought the West closer together than I have known it," Eisenhower declared to a round of applause from his audience of 1,500 diners.

Eisenhower touched off more applause in saying: "There is no nation in this world that dares at this moment to attack the United States, and they know it."

A Notre Dame citation presented to the president with an honorary doctor of laws degree praised him as "the most eminent and most popular statesman of his time."

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame, told Eisenhower, "When others ranted and raged, you stood firm and symbolized human dignity."

Presser Jury To Be Handed Case Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—Trial of William Presser, Ohio Teamsters president, was at the final argument stage today. He is charged with obstructing justice by mutilating and concealing records subpoenaed by the Senate Anti-Rackets Committee.

A federal court jury of six men and six women may get the case before afternoon quitting time. Arguments were scheduled to start at 1 p. m.

Presser, 53, for seven years president of the 60,000-member Joint Council 41 of the Teamsters Union, testified most of Friday as the trial rounded out a week.

He denied he had seen, torn or erased an invoice for eight silver champagne buckets worth $100 each which the Teamsters bought to distribute as Christmas gifts in 1955.

The Anti-Rackets Committee, whose chairman, Jon L. McClellan (D-Ark) was the leadoff witness for the government, wanted the invoice and 1955 Christmas list because the name of George H. Bender was one of the eight who were to receive the champagne buckets. Bender, a U.S. senator in 1955, has said he "never saw" any champagne bucket.

The former senator's associations with the Teamsters Union were of special interest to the Senate committee after he was named by the Teamsters in August 1958, to head a commission to conduct the union's own cleanup campaign, government witnesses have testified.

New York Sees Shark

JONES BEACH, N.Y. (AP)—The dreaded eel, "shark" drove bathers out of the water at this Long Island beach Sunday. Coast Guardsmen with rifles killed the 12-foot, 350-pound marauder as it cruised in the surf.

Unseasonably warm January weather and March's cold had some effect on retail sales and employment, particularly in the construction industry in March, but the only indication of permanent damage appears to be lost construction time.

Unemployment has been decreasing since March, but probably will continue to be higher than normally expected in a reasonably good year.

The last half of 1959 will be better than the first.

Red Chinese Put Pressure On Cubans

HAVANA (AP)—Communist China is getting bolder in its moves to woo—or force—Cuba's 30,000 Chinese into the Red camp. The beginning of an "extortion racket" to help achieve this end was reported by Chinese sources in Havana over the weekend.

Diplomatic sources said they expect this to be augmented later by more direct means, as Cuba's links with Peiping—now limited to commercial and cultural agreements—are fortified by diplomatic relations.

The Red extortion racket resembles that attempted to obtain dollars from Chinese residents in the United States and other Western countries by Peiping.

A Chinese source here revealed a copy of a letter he said was sent to thousands of Chinese and Cubans of Chinese ancestry directly from the Overseas Chinese Returnees Assn. of Peiping.

The letter, in Chinese, starts off with a characteristic Communist blast at the U.S. government followed by an expression of sympathy for the Cuban revolution. At one point, it says that "from one realistic point of view, the strategy adopted by the Cuban revolutionary movement appears to have the stamp of Mao Tse-tung himself."

The letter then asks the recipient to fill out a brief questionnaire, including these two questions: Property owned in the country of residence and names and addresses and relationship of relatives in China.

"With this information," the informant said, "it's easy for the Communists to reach relatives of Cuban Chinese, most of whom come from the China mainland, and exert pressures on them."

With funds obtained from them, he added, the Chinese Reds have the means to expand their operations in Latin America.

Chief Temple said the trouble developed about 1:50 a. m. today. The Court St. switch controller is located at police headquarters.

Officers said the light control equipment is about 30 years old. They said this marks the second time within a year the Court St. lights have become stuck on yellow.

Massillon Woman Is Freed by Judge

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Judge George N. Graham today dismissed the case against a 54-year-old woman who had been charged with knowingly permitting gambling on her property. Her attorney pointed out she hasn't owned the place since 1952.

Helen Mossides was one of several Massillon persons indicted by a special grand jury impaneled by the state last January to investigate vice and gambling in Stark County.

Her trial was to start today. But when the case was called, her lawyer pointed out the grand jury had made a mistake in indicting her and that ownership of the property was a matter of record.

Trial for Leo R. Hammer, 48, is scheduled for Tuesday and Arthur T. Ellis, 67, is to be tried Wednesday, with Alex G. Marinakis' case set for Thursday. All are from Massillon.

California Political Drive Bristling with Controversy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The campaign in California's presidential primary suddenly is bristling with controversy.

Angry charges and counter-charges burst out in a busy week-end of politics that also found Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York acting like a Republican candidate and two Democratic senators hunting votes in Minnesota.

Democrats and Republicans vote in California's primary Tuesday. The Republican presidential preference ballot lists only Vice President Richard M. Nixon. The Democratic ballot lists Gov. Edmund G. Brown and a minor candidate George H. McLain.

The campaign dormant for weeks lived after Brown called for a heavy Democratic vote to swamp the turnout for Nixon.

A former congressman, Patrick Hillings, wrote Los Angeles Republicans that such a vote would be interpreted by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "as an indication that the administration's tough attitude toward communism is not supported by the American people."

Brown attacked the letter "as the ugly tactics of the old Nixon and 11th hour McCarthyism." Adlai E. Stevenson the 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential candidate called on Nixon to repudiate the letter.

Rockefeller returned to New York after two days of campaigning in North Dakota. He asked voters to support Gov. John Davis in the special Senate election June 28. But at times Rockefeller acted more like a campaigner seeking support for himself.

He shook hands, spoke at rallies and picnics, attended a high school graduation, put on an Indian headdress, visited a farm, and hopped over fences and posed with cows.

He scored a personal triumph but found no encouragement for his hopes to win the Republican presidential nomination. In fact, at a television interview in Bismarck Saturday night Rockefeller gave Nixon higher public praise than he had given him before.

Rockefeller said Nixon had served the nation well with "great skill, great discretion and great courage." He said he would campaign for Nixon if the party nominated the current vice president as its standard bearer.

Both Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Stuart Symington of Missouri campaigned in Minnesota. They want support from the 31-vote delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

At a news conference in Minneapolis Kennedy said he expected more than 600 votes in the early balloting at the convention. He would need 761 for the nomination.

The Minnesota delegation had been for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota but he dropped out of the race after losing to Kennedy in Wisconsin and West Virginia.

Kennedy, after talking to the Minnesota delegation, lunched in Eau Claire Wis. with the 20 delegates Humphrey had won in the Wisconsin primary.

Symington spoke at a Farmers Union picnic at Albert Lea Minn. and said the country needs a new secretary of agriculture.

"Economic conditions of the farm are like a cancer in our total national economy," he said.

Another Democratic candidate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas, was discussed today by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the head of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee.

Goldwater said a Johnson-Kennedy ticket would be the toughest for the Republicans to beat. He said Johnson was coming up fast for the nomination.

Besides, California, New York, and South Dakota also have presidential primaries Tuesday.

Pro-American Party Wins Bolivian Poll

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Victor Paz Estenssoro, who nationalized Bolivia's huge tin industry in 1952, rode back into the presidency today on an overwhelming vote.

The 52-year-old political veteran led the ruling Pro-American Nationalist Revolutionary Movement (MNR) to a landslide victory against three challengers.

Two of the defeated candidates shouted fraud even before all the ballots were counted in Sunday's election, which was carried out with only a smattering of violence in this Andean nation noted for turbulence. Fifty persons were killed during the campaign.

Walter Guevara Arze, 47, who broke with the MNR and formed his own Authentic Nationalist Revolutionary Movement (AMNR), and Mario Gutierrez of the Bolivian Socialist Falange (FSB) raised the protests as they ran neck and neck, but far back, for second place.

Hugo Gonzalez Moscoso, of the Trotskyite Communist Revolutionary Workers party, the fourth man in the field, got only a handful of votes.

The slim, dark Paz Estenssoro went into an early lead and the outcome was never in doubt. His major support came from the largely illiterate Indian and peasant population and from the organized miners. His running mate was Juan Lechin, Bolivia's labor chief.

Jaycees Give To Grandstand

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday voted to donate $617.97 to the Pickaway County Agriculture Society's Fairgrounds grandstand.

This is the second donation toward the grandstand by the local Jaycees. They initially turned over $1,000 to the Society for purchase of grandstand blueprints.

The Jaycees conducted five harness racing matinees at the Fairgrounds to raise money for the grandstand. The matinee was an original idea of the Jaycees.

After a delay of several years, the County Fair Board made monetary arrangements for financing the grandstand and construction has started. It is expected to be completed by Fair time this year.

Move Designed To Call Off Visit by Ike

TOKYO (AP)—The Socialist bloc in Parliament today formally approved its mass resignation in a pressure move aimed at ousting Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and washing out President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

Socialist leaders hoped the mass resignation would arouse public opinion to force Kishi to dissolve Parliament before the U.S. Japan security treaty automatically takes effect June 19—the day Eisenhower is due to arrive.

The big national labor federation, Solvho, called a national convention Wednesday and Thursday to draft plans for another strike against Kishi, the security pact and the Eisenhower visit.

The 'People's Council to Block the Security Pact,' spearheaded by the Socialists and Solvho, announced a timetable on its anti-government campaign emphasizing protests against the President's visit.

Included are demonstrations in front of the U.S. Embassy June 10 when a White House advance party, led by presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, arrives; "May Day-like" demonstrations throughout the country June 11 with 200,000 expected to take part in protest rallies around the Parliament building and the U.S. Embassy; a series of work stoppages June 15-17, climaxed by a strike on the 17th, and mass marches with demonstrators wearing mourning on the day Eisenhower arrives.

Kishi has declared he intends to stand fast behind the invitation to the President "no matter what may come." He also has said he will not resign until after the treaty is in effect.

The left-wing Socialists have only 125 members in the 467-seat lower house of the Diet—not enough to legally force dissolution of Parliament.

Drowning Deaths Top Ohio List of Weekend Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five boys drowned in various sectors of the state over the weekend, and some of the glow was rubbed off an otherwise excellent safety record for Ohio.

Traffic—which claimed such a heavy toll (28) over the Memorial Day weekend—took only four lives during the 54-hour (6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday) initial June weekend surveyed by The Associated Press. Amazingly, a beautiful Sunday that saw highways overrun with vehicles produced not a single reported traffic fatality.

Other accidental deaths included two by burns and one when a racing car ran amok over a retaining bank and struck four onlookers, killing one, at Mansfield Raceway.

The most bizarre fatality came when a Springfield man, apparently in fun, put a pistol he thought sure was unloaded to his head. The first two times he pulled the trigger nothing happened. The third time a .32 caliber bullet ripped into his head, related the four horrified companions who witnessed the episode.

The drownings claimed boys age 16, 15, 12 and 12. Three died in swimming pools, one when he slid down a stone channel wall into Lake Erie at Cleveland and one in a Coshocton County stream.

The fatalities:

Friday Night
Franklin L. Redmon, 24, Marion, when the car in which he was a passenger overturned on Ohio 231 near Deunquat in Wyandot County.
Maurice R. Yost, 31, Ashland, when a stock car at Mansfield Raceway went out of control in a race, jumped a retaining bank and struck him.

Saturday
Louis Morrow, 52, Fletcher (Miami County), in a head-on automobile collision three miles south of Sidney on old U.S. 25.
Mrs. Oakley Eagle, Lakewood, struck by a hit run driver.
Debra Lee Myrice, 3, Oregon (a Toledo suburb), hit by a truck while crossing a street near her home.
Edward Klimkowski, 55, a patient at Metropolitan General Hospital, Cleveland, burned when he apparently lit a cigarette and it ignited his clothing.
Charles Riley, 15, Loveland Park drowned in a commercial swimming pool at Foster in Warren County.

Sunday
Clark Nixon, 16, Rt. 4, McConelsville, drowned in the Walhonding River 13 miles west of Coshocton after going swimming.
Mrs. Ann Gross, 39, Warren, burned in a fire at her home.
Charles Everett Draper, 16, Marion, drowned in a municipal swimming pool there.
Thomas Applegate, 12, Columbus, drowned at a swimming pool there.
Marion Austin Jr., 12, Cleveland, drowned in Lake Erie there after sliding down a stone channel wall into the water.
Charles R. Smith, 28, Springfield, when he placed what he evidently thought was an unloaded pistol to his head and pulled the trigger—a bullet firing into his brain.

Father Faces Cutting Count

Carl Arnold, 43, Route 1, Lockbourne, was cited into Circleville Municipal Court today on a charge of cutting his son with intent to wound.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said the son, Herman Arnold, 21 suffered an eight-inch laceration on the left arm.

The younger Arnold said he was in bed yesterday when his father attacked him with the knife. He said his father had been drinking.

Arnold was bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $300 bond by attorney Emmitt Crist, acting in the absence of Judge Sterling M. Lamb. The accused entered a plea of innocent.

Boy, 13, Girl, 12, Credited with Heroism

WELLSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy rescued his twin sister from a creek Sunday, and a 12-year-old girl breathed life into her unconscious friend.

State police credited Albert Stewart and Rita Barnhart with saving the life of Albert's sister, Alberta.

All three were swimming near here when the Stewart girl stepped into a deep hole.

Ohio Business Climate Is Good, Expected To Get Better

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's business climate is good, and—except for continued unemployment—it should get better during the next six months.

That's the summarized opinion of some of the experts employed by the state to keep tabs on Ohio's economy. From a close-to-mid-year vantage point, they see the states economic situation this way:

The first three months of the year didn't come up to expectations, but the over-all picture now is relatively good.

Unseasonably warm January weather and March's cold had some effect on retail sales and employment, particularly in the construction industry in March, but the only indication of permanent damage appears to be lost construction time.

Unemployment has been decreasing since March, but probably will continue to be higher than normally expected in a reasonably good year.

The last half of 1959 will be better than the first.

But, says Koder M. Collison, director of Ohio's new Department of Industrial and Economic Development:

"There's a lot of hedging about the last half because we have a national election and because of this situation on the other side right now (U2 incident, etc.). We may be producing something other than automobiles if this situation doesn't square away."

However, Collison says some pickup was noted in the Ohio economy in the second quarter and "There's every indication capital expenditures are starting to roll. Although the department is new and doesn't have all the contacts it desires. Collison explains, 19 million dollars worth of expansion was reported in Ohio in April and 33 million in May—a 10 per cent increase over last year.

The associate director of Ohio State University's Bureau of Business Research, James C. Yocum, says business now generally is good, in fact running ahead of last year.

"But you have to note that steel production has been down, he adds. "It was at 72 per cent of capacity in mid-May, the lowest non-strike level since 1958."

He thinks high level expansion

should continue into the second half.

The only permanent effect of the weather to date is suggested by research economist John E. Ervin of the Department of Industrial and Economic Development, who says difficulty in regaining construction lost during poor weather might be so classified.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation says contractors added about 20,000 workers to their payrolls in April after the cold March weather which kept employment low.

Yocum sees no permanent damage from the weather, although he notes that "unseasonably warm January weather affected retail sales, especially cold weather items, and March was unseasonably cold. Last year Easter came early and that is unfortunate for a comparison of March sales."

The university expert says retail sales are running ahead of last year despite any weather influence. Those segments of retail trade in Ohio that are showing gains for the first four months of 1960 include shoe stores (up 10 per cent), jewelry (up 9), florists (up 7), home furnishings (up 6), motor vehicle sales and service (up 5), department stores (up 4), and grocery and food (up 3 to 4, probably normal growth), he says.

While unemployment has been declining from the 118,000 total of late March, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports that the average number unemployed for a week or more in May 1959 was 54,859; compared with about 92,000 last month.

Bureau officials believe that, while the last half of the year probably will be better than the first in Ohio, unemployment will remain relatively high.

In Cleveland, senior economist Fred O. Kiel of the Federal Reserve Bank points to the steel slowdown, plant equipment costs and efficiency trimming, and higher interest and land costs in the construction field as reasons.

Like Yocum, Ervin, BUC officials and others, Kiel is fairly optimistic.

"Business will be as good or better than it was at the start of the year. Inventories now are low and are still being 'trimmed' further, so I feel the chances of stretching the boom in 1961 are getting better and better."

Fair and Cool
Fair and cool today, tonight and Tuesday. High today, 76-78. Low tonight, 50. High tomorrow, 76-78. Yesterday's high, 90; low, 58; year ago high, 84; low, 57.

Coils Burn; Lights Show Yellow Only

Motorists looking at traffic lights on Court St. today could see nothing but yellow.

All lights on Court from High to Corwin Sts. showed nothing but the yellow caution beam. Police Chief Robert Temple said two coils on a switching motor burned.

Chief Temple said the trouble developed about 1:50 a. m. today. The Court St. switch controller is located at police headquarters.

Officers said the light control equipment is about 30 years old. They said this marks the second time within a year the Court St. lights have become stuck on yellow.

Entire Socialist Bloc Resigns From Japanese Parliament

Red Chinese Put Pressure On Cubans

HAVANA (AP)—Communist China is getting bolder in its moves to woo—or force—Cuba's 30,000 Chinese into the Red camp. The beginning of an "extortion racket" to help achieve this end was reported by Chinese sources in Havana over the weekend.

Diplomatic sources said they expect this to be augmented later by more direct means, as Cuba's links with Peiping—now limited to commercial and cultural agreements—are fortified by diplomatic relations.

The Red extortion racket resembles that attempted to obtain dollars from Chinese residents in the United States and other Western countries by Peiping.

A Chinese source here revealed a copy of a letter he said was sent to thousands of Chinese and Cubans of Chinese ancestry directly from the Overseas Chinese Returnees Assn. of Peiping.

The letter, in Chinese, starts off with a characteristic Communist blast at the U.S. government followed by an expression of sympathy for the Cuban revolution. At one point, it says that "from one realistic point of view, the strategy adopted by the Cuban revolutionary movement appears to have the stamp of Mao Tse-tung himself."

The letter then asks the recipient to fill out a brief questionnaire, including these two questions: Property owned in the country of residence and names and addresses and relationship of relatives in China.

"With this information," the informant said, "it's easy for the Communists to reach relatives of Cuban Chinese, most of whom come from the China mainland, and exert pressures on them."

With funds obtained from them, he added, the Chinese Reds have the means to expand their operations in Latin America.

California Political Drive Bristling with Controversy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The campaign in California's presidential primary suddenly is bristling with controversy.

Angry charges and counter-charges burst out in a busy weekend of politics that also found Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York acting like a Republican candidate and two Democratic senators hunting votes in Minnesota.

Democrats and Republicans vote in California's primary Tuesday. The Republican presidential preference ballot lists only Vice President Richard M. Nixon. The Democratic ballot lists Gov. Edmund G. Brown and a minor candidate George H. McLain.

The campaign dormant for weeks lived over Brown called for a heavy Democratic vote to swamp the turnout for Nixon.

A former congressman, Patrick Hillings, wrote Los Angeles Republicans that such a vote would be interpreted by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "as an indication that the administration's tough attitude toward communism is not supported by the American people."

Brown attacked the letter "as the ugly tactics of the old Nixon and 11th hour McCarthyism." Adlai E. Stevenson the 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential candidate called on Nixon to repudiate the letter.

Rockefeller returned to New York after two days of campaigning in North Dakota. He asked voters to support Gov. John Davis in the special Senate election June 28. But at times Rockefeller acted more like a campaigner seeking support for himself.

He shook hands, spoke at rallies and picnics, attended a high school graduation, put on an Indian headdress, visited a farm, and hopped over fences and posed with cows.

He scored a personal triumph but found no encouragement for his hopes to win the Republican presidential nomination. In fact, at a television interview in Bismarck Saturday night Rockefeller gave Nixon higher public praise than he had given him before.

Rockefeller said Nixon had served the nation well with "great skill, great discretion and great courage." He said he would campaign for Nixon if the party nominated the current vice president as its standard bearer.

Both Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Stuart Symington of Missouri campaigned in Minnesota. They want support from the 31-vote delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

At a news conference in Minneapolis Kennedy said he expected more than 600 votes in the early balloting at the convention. He would need 761 for the nomination.

The Minnesota delegation had been for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota but he dropped out of the race after losing to Kennedy in Wisconsin and West Virginia.

Kennedy, after talking to the Minnesota delegation, lunched in Eau Claire Wis. with the 20 delegates Humphrey had won in the Wisconsin primary.

Symington spoke at a Farmers Union picnic at Albert Lea Minn. and said the country needs a new secretary of agriculture.

"Economic conditions of the farm are like a cancer in our total national economy," he said.

Another Democratic candidate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas, was discussed today by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the head of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee.

Goldwater said a Johnson-Kennedy ticket would be the toughest for the Republicans to beat. He said Johnson was coming up fast for the nomination.

Besides California, New York, and South Dakota also have presidential primaries Tuesday.

Move Designed To Call Off Visit by Ike

TOKYO (AP)—The Socialist bloc in Parliament today formally approved its mass resignation in a pressure move aimed at ousting Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and washing out President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

Socialist leaders hoped the mass resignation would arouse public opinion to force Kishi to dissolve Parliament before the U.S. Japan security treaty automatically takes effect June 19 — the day Eisenhower is due to arrive.

The big national labor federation, Sohyo, called a national convention Wednesday and Thursday to draft plans for another strike against Kishi, the security pact and the Eisenhower visit.

The "People's Council to Block the Security Pact," spearheaded by the Socialists and Sohyo, announced a timetable on its anti-government campaign emphasizing protests against the President's visit.

Included are demonstrations in front of the U.S. Embassy June 10 when a White House advance party, led by presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, arrives; "May Day like" demonstrations throughout the country June 11 with 200,000 expected to take part in protest rallies around the Parliament building and the U.S. Embassy; a series of work stoppages June 15-17, climaxed by a strike on the 17th, and mass marches with demonstrators wearing mourning on the day Eisenhower arrives.

Kishi has declared he intends to stand fast behind the invitation to the President "no matter what may come." He also has said he will not resign until after the treaty is in effect.

The left-wing Socialists have only 125 members in the 467-seat lower house of the Diet — not enough to legally force dissolution of Parliament.

Drowning Deaths Top Ohio List of Weekend Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five boys drowned in various sectors of the state over the weekend, and some of the glow was rubbed off an otherwise excellent safety record for Ohio.

Traffic—which claimed such a heavy toll (28) over the Memorial Day weekend—took only four lives during the 54-hour (6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday) initial June weekend surveyed by The Associated Press. Amazingly, a beautiful Sunday that saw highways overrun with vehicles produced not a single reported traffic fatality.

Other accidental deaths included two by burns and one when a racing car ran amok over a retaining bank and struck four onlookers, killing one, at Mansfield Raceway.

The most bizarre fatality came when a Springfield farm, apparently in fun, put a pistol he thought sure was unloaded to his head. The first two times he pulled the trigger nothing happened. The third time a .32 caliber bullet ripped into his head, related the four horrified companions who witnessed the episode.

The drownings claimed boys age 16, 16, 15, 12 and 12. Three died in swimming pools, one when he slid down a stone channel wall into Lake Erie at Cleveland and one in a Coshocton County stream.

The fatalities:

Friday Night

Franklin L. Redmon, 24, Marion, when the car in which he was a passenger overturned on Ohio 231 near Deunquart in Wyandot County.

Maurice R. Yost, 31, Ashland, when a stock car at Mansfield Raceway went out of control in a race, jumped a retaining bank and struck him.

Saturday

Louis Morrow, 52, Fletcher (Miami County), in a head-on automobile collision three miles south of Sidney on old U.S. 25.

Mrs. Oakley Eagle, Lakewood, struck by a hit-run driver.

Debra Lee Myrice, 3, Oregon (a Toledo suburb), hit by a truck while crossing a street near her home.

Edward Klimkowski, 55, a patient at Metropolitan General Hospital, Cleveland, burned when he apparently lit a cigarette and it ignited his clothing.

Charles Riley, 15, Loveland Park drowned in a commercial swimming pool at Foster in Warren County.

Sunday

Clark Nixon, 16, Rt. 4, McConeville, drowned in the Walhonding River 13 miles west of Coshocton after going swimming.

Mrs. Ann Gross, 39, Warren, burned in a fire at her home.

Charles Everett Draper, 16, Marion, drowned in a municipal swimming pool there.

Thomas Applegate, 12, Columbus, drowned at a swimming pool there.

Marion Austin Jr., 12, Cleveland, drowned in Lake Erie there after sliding down a stone channel wall into the water.

Charles R. Smith, 28, Springfield, when he placed what he evidently thought was an unloaded pistol to his head and pulled the trigger—a bullet firing into his brain.

Pro-American Party Wins Bolivian Poll

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Victor Paz Estenssoro, who nationalized Bolivia's huge tin industry in 1952, rode back into the presidency today on an overwhelming vote.

The 52-year-old political veteran led the ruling pro-American Nationalist Revolutionary Movement (MNR) to a landslide victory against three challengers.

Two of the defeated candidates shouted fraud even before all the ballots were counted in Sunday's election, which was carried out with only a smattering of violence in this Andean nation noted for turbulence. Fifty persons were killed during the campaign.

Walter Guevara Arze, 47, who broke with the MNR and formed his own Authentic Nationalist Revolutionary Movement (AMNR), and Mario Gutierrez of the Bolivian Socialist Falange (FSF) raised the protests as they thin neck and neck, but far back, for second place.

Hugo Gonzalez Moscoso of the Trotskyite Communist Revolutionary Workers party, the fourth man in the field, got only a handful of votes.

The slim, dark Paz Estenssoro went into an early lead and the outcome was never in doubt. His major support came from the largely illiterate Indian and peasant population and from the organized miners. His running mate was Juan Lechin, Bolivia's labor chief.

Jaycees Give To Grandstand

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday voted to donate $617.97 to the Pickaway County Agriculture Society's Fairgrounds grandstand.

This is the second donation toward the grandstand by the local Jaycees. They initially turned over $1,000 to the Society for purchase of grandstand blueprints.

The Jaycees conducted five harness racing matinees at the Fairgrounds to raise money for the grandstand. The matinee was an original idea of the Jaycees.

After a delay of several years, the County Fair Board made monetary arrangements for financing the grandstand and construction has started. It is expected to be completed by Fair time this year.

Boy, 13, Girl, 12, Credited with Heroism

WELLSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy rescued his twin sister from a creek Sunday, and a 12-year-old girl breathed life into her unconscious friend.

State police credited Albert Stewart and Rita Barnhart with saving the life of Albert's sister, Alberta.

All three were swimming near here when the Stewart girl stepped into a deep hole.

Landing in Normandy Just 16 Years Ago

BAYEUX, France (AP)—Sixteen years ago today Allied troops landed on the soil of Normandy to begin the liberation of Europe from Nazi rule.

Bayeux, the first city liberated, fell to the British June 7.

As it has each year since, Bayeux marked the anniversary of D-Day with solemn ceremonies.

French Veterans Minister Raymond Triboulet and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville laid wreaths on a floodlit liberation monument Sunday night.

Ohio Business Climate Is Good, Expected To Get Better

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's business climate is good, and—except for continued unemployment—it should get better during the next six months.

That's the summarized opinion of some of the experts employed by the state to keep tabs on Ohio's economy. From a close-to-mid-year vantage point, they see the states economic situation this way:

The first three months of the year didn't come up to expectations, but the over-all picture now is relatively good.

Unseasonably warm January weather and March's cold had some effect on retail sales and employment, particularly in the construction industry in March, but the only indication of permanent damage appears to be lost construction time.

Unemployment has been decreasing since March, but probably will continue to be higher than normally expected in a reasonably good year.

The last half of 1960 will be better than the first.

But, says Koder M. Collison, director of Ohio's new Department of Industrial and Economic Development:

"There's a lot of hedging about the last half because we have a national election and because of this situation on the other side right now (U2 incident, etc.). We may be producing something other than automobiles if this situation doesn't square away."

However, Collison says some pickup was noted in the Ohio economy in the second quarter and "There's every indication capital expenditures are starting to roll."

Although the department is new and doesn't have all the contacts

it desires, Collison explains, 19 million dollars worth of expansion was reported in Ohio in April and 33 million in May—a 10 per cent increase over last year.

The associate director of Ohio State University's Bureau of Business Research, James C. Yocum, says business now generally is good, in fact running ahead of last year.

"But you have to note that steel production has been down, he adds. "It was at 72 per cent of capacity in mid-May, the lowest non-strike level since 1958."

He thinks high level expansion

should continue into the second half.

The only permanent effect of the weather to date is suggested by research economist John E. Ervin of the Department of Industrial and Economic Development, who says difficulty in regaining construction lost during poor weather might be so classified.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation says contractors added about 20,000 workers to their payrolls in April after the cold March weather which kept employment low.

Yocum sees no permanent damage from the weather, although he notes that "unseasonably warm January weather affected retail sales, especially cold weather items, and March was unseasonably cold. Last year Easter came early and that is unfortunate for a comparison of March sales."

The university expert says retail sales are running ahead of last year despite any weather influence. Those segments of retail trade in Ohio that are showing gains for the first four months of 1960 include shoe stores (up 10 per cent), jewelry (up 9), florists (up 7), home furnishings (up 6), motor vehicle sales and service (up 5), department stores (up 4), and grocery and food (up 3 to 4, probably normal growth), he says.

While unemployment has been declining from the 118,000 total of late March, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports that the average number unemployed for a week or more in May 1959 was 54,859, compared with about 92,000 last month.

Bureau officials believe that, while the last half of the year probably will be better than the first in Ohio, unemployment will remain relatively high.

In Cleveland, senior economist Fred O. Kiel of the Federal Reserve Bank points to the steel slowdown, plant equipment costs and efficiency trimming, and higher interest and land costs in the construction field as reasons.

Like Yocum, Ervin, BUC officials and others, Kiel is fairly optimistic:

"Business will be as good or better than it was at the start of the year. Inventories now are low and are still being trimmed further, so I feel the chances of stretching the boom in 1961 are getting better and better."

joining in the walkout. With 288 seats, Kishi's ruling Liberal Democratic party has a quorum to carry on business. Some Japanese newspapers speculated the government party would reject the Socialist resignations.

The Socialists handed their resignations to party chairman Inejiso Asanuma, who is expected to hand them to the house speaker Tuesday.

Kyodo news service reported that the government would indirectly enlist Emperor Hirohito to counter the leftist agitation against the Eisenhower visit.

The Emperor is regarded above politics in Japan, and Kyodo said the government plan was to emphasize in all announcements that the President is coming as the guest of the Emperor—not as the personal guest of Kishi.

Motor, Steel Stocks Pace New Upturn

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and motors paced a renewed stock market upturn early this afternoon in active trading.

After a hesitant start, with prices only narrowly higher, Steel shares forged gains running from 1 to 3 points. Motors joined the upturn with gains stretching from fractions to about 2.

Oil, rails, chemicals and non-ferrous metals tagged along. Their gains were more moderate.

Electronics and aircraft-misiles were irregular.

The steels gathered strength from Wall Street talk to the effect that inventory positions of steel customers were down sharply and that an upturn in new orders was just around the corner.

The rise of steels, motors, and oils was a continuation of the recovery of these "oversold" issues which began late last week as the "romance" stocks lost favor.

Youngstown Sheet advanced more than 3, Lukens and Jones & Laughlin about 2 apiece. Up a point or better were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, and Republic.

Chrysler, which reported sales at the highest rate since August 1957, hopped about 2 points. Ford rose about 1.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Royal Dutch were up about a point each.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.95 at 631.93.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 90 to 217.20 with the industrials up 1.60, the rails up .90 and the utilities unchanged.

Corporate bonds advance. Governments were unchanged to slightly higher.

off Sunday in a deadlock.

After two hours of talks between union and Convair officials in San Diego, Federal Mediator E. Marvin Sconyers said no further meeting was expected until called by either side.

Negotiations by the IAM are in behalf of the Atlas base workers along with 22,726 at the San Diego plants and 2,869 at a plant at Pomona, Calif.

A one-day work stoppage, beginning with the midnight shift, was announced for the San Diego and Pona plants that build the Atlas and several smaller misiles.

A union spokesman said a meeting is set for 10 a. m. PDT today for workers at these two plants.

The dispute is over wages and other benefits. Convair's last offer was an 11-cent hourly wage increase and a 3-cent cost-of-living raise which would be incorporated in the permanent wage. The union said the offer was inadequate.

Present machinists' scale ranges from $1.79 to $3.40 an hour. The machinists seek a 14-cent hourly pay increase over a two-year period.

Court Orders Dirt Removal

The Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Saturday ordered Michael E. Sparks, Route 4, to remove a large pile of dirt and a tar kettle which is blocking the access of Locust Alley to S. Pickaway St.

The local court granted a request by the City of Circleville for a temporary mandatory injunction ordering Sparks to remove the obstruction from the 15-foot wide strip, until final hearing decides the case.

The city, represented by Solicitor Robert H. Huffer, stated that the city, by prescriptive rights, has established in favor of the general public, by open, exclusive continuous and adverse use for more than 21 years, the privilege to use this access.

The city stated that the dirt pile is causing irreparable injury to the public who must use the access. They asked for the temporary injunction and then a permanent injunction to keep the access open to S. Pickaway St.

Sparks has until June 11 to remove the dirt pile and tar bucket. He is represented by Tom A. Renick, 114 1/2 N. Court St. The access in dispute is located directly across from the intersection of S. Pickaway St. and Edison Ave.

Huge Balloon Soars West Across U.S.

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — A huge balloon, described as the world's largest, soared slowly westward across the lower United States today in an experiment designed to provide more information about cosmic rays.

The 500-foot diameter balloon was moving along in the stratosphere at an altitude of 114,000 feet. It was expected to pick up speed and come down somewhere in Texas Wednesday.

The balloon carried a stack of nuclear emulsion film sheets weighing 800 pounds.

Plans called for the $50,000 package of film to be parachuted to earth shortly before the skyscraper-balloon completes its flight.

The exposed film will be distributed to scientists of 13 nations for analysis over a two-year period.

The flight began early Sunday at the Gynco Naval Air Station near Brunswick.

The launching was termed the most perfect yet achieved by the Office of Naval Research, co-sponsor of "Project Glynco" with the National Science Foundation.

Smile-and-Snarl Soviet Tactics Hit

GREENCASTLE, Ind. (AP)—A college commencement audience Sunday heard a sober warning from Canada's Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker against letting Soviet "smile and snarl" tactics knock the free world off balance.

Diefenbaker told DePauw University graduates Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is a past master "of the technique of carrot and stick"—that is, being affable to the West one moment and ferocious the next.

"No doubt the Soviet leaders would take pleasure," the Prime Minister said, "if by the sequence and substance of their pronouncements they could induce the Western nations to lose their equilibrium. Let us resolve to deprive them of that hope."

Graduates of Ohio Colleges Hear National Leaders Speak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We must end the armaments race with the Soviet Union and Red China by definite agreement plus adequate safeguards, else the most terrible of all worlds might be precipitated," says U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young.

The Ohio Democrat was one of several commencement speakers addressing graduates at six Ohio colleges and universities Sunday.

Speaking to 152 graduates at Central State College at Wilberforce, Young declared:

"Years of negotiations, if they achieve the goal, will repay us with relief, with security, with safety and with the comforting assurance that mankind will endure and will not commit the final and irrevocable insanity of total self-destruction."

Other graduation exercises were held at Ohio University, Miami, Ohio Wesleyan, Bowling Green State and Hiram.

Commencements were held today at John Carroll and Wittenberg universities and Marietta, Muskingum, Wooster and Findlay colleges.

Also speaking on the subject of disarmament was Sir Leslie Munro, former New Zealand ambassador to the United States and currently on special assignment for the United Nations.

The free world's dilemma, Munro told 865 Ohio U. graduates, is that if it ceases nuclear tests, "it has no means of checking underground tests in the Communist world."

T. Keith Glennan, chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told 819 Miami U. graduates that some young Americans may have been reluctant to take up the challenge of helping underdeveloped nations "because it has never occurred to us that we might make a real contribution."

At Bowling Green State University, Dr. Francis Horn said "college students here and everywhere must learn to place service to society ahead of personal interests to put concern for mankind before concern for self." Dr. Horn, a Toledo native and president of Rhode Island University, spoke at a commencement in which 589 degrees were conferred.

One of whom was his daughter, the president of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. advised the seniors to take a big view of the future and "develop your individual selves as much as you can."

Because, said Frederick R. Kappel, "a future can only come from what you have to give it and what you have to give is always bound by what you are."

The 100 graduates of Hiram College were told by the school's former president to "stake off some area of familiar knowledge and dig deeply. There is," said Dr. Kenneth I. Brown, "the pure gold of excitement waiting for you somewhere in these fields." Brown is also a former president of Denison University.

Dr. Jaroslav Polikan, professor of historical theology at the University of Chicago, said at Wittenberg commencement that the task of the Christian university is to call the church back to its tradition. He described the features of this tradition as "a passion for being, a reverence for language and an enthusiasm for history. More than 300 Wittenberg seniors received degrees.

Shakespeare wrote "Romeo and Juliet" in 1595.

Ohio Driving Permit Rule Is Tightened

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Effective today, all persons applying for temporary driving permits will be required to take a written examination and eye test, the Department of Highway Safety announced.

The applicant, under the new plan, must undergo a test which includes all parts of the complete driver test except the behind-the-wheel road test, before he receives his temporary permit.

The plan has been used on an experimental basis in 10 central Ohio counties for almost two years. Last year, 12,888 of the 46, 124 persons who applied for temporary permits in central Ohio failed the preliminary examination.

Principal reasons for 28 per cent of the new drivers failing the test were insufficient knowledge of traffic and safety regulations, below-standard vision and obvious physical defects which needed correction.

Col. Scott B. Radcliffe, State Highway Patrol superintendent, said the preliminary examinations would be given at regular patrol examining locations at designated times. No appointments will be needed, he said.

Mrs. America Entrants Undergoing Interviews

Red China Has Strong Ideas

If the Kremlin bosses were realists instead of dedicated men, they would take time out occasionally from their general cain raising to appraise their ideological partners in Peiping. Through newspaper articles in the controlled press the Red Chinese reging announces:

That it will continue to incite and support evitable and the communist nations red revolutions in the West. That nuclear war is not something to be a f r a i d of because a superior civilization could be created "on the debris of dead imperialism."

That imperialist policy makes war in-must plan for a just war to defeat the unjust war which the imperialists want. That capitalism can ever coexist peacefully with socialism is absurd.

Throughout the articles runs the theme that peace can be had only on communist terms. A war such as Peiping plots would not stop — short of defeat — until the Chinese had won living space for their race. Much of that space could be found only in a conquered Russia.

In addition to being pressed by high prices, we're taken to the cleaners.

British Say Stiff Collars To Go

With warm weather beginning to bear down, it is noteworthy that the British clothing industry proposes to act in the interest of the long oppressed and heattortured male of the species.

"Nowhere in the world," said a spokesman, "does one see such insane acts of self-inflicted torture as the sight of the over-dressed Britisher on a warm summer's day. Is this to be another summer of beet-red faces gasping out of stiff white collars?"

No, he answered. Instead of the traditional black summer suits and bowler hats, the industry proposes to throw these things out. It will manufacture for, and encourage distribution by, the trade of summer fabrics both lighter in color and in weight. Then he proposes that prominent Britons—the Duke of Edinburgh, no less, for one—set the pace for all by adopting this attire.

Americans are not so bound by tradition. And we have this wonderful air-conditioning, which Britain largely lacks, and the example of the women who adopted sensible summer attire long ago.

But—stone the crows—if staid British are going to surrender a little of their uncomfortable summer wear tradition, who knows how far Americans may go?

Parenthood Is Strain on Dad

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Parenthood can be a real strain on men sometimes. In one South American tribe, for example, a woman goes back to work the day after she has a baby. But the proud father takes to his hammock and rests up for a week.

Many of our oldest superstitions center around the institution of marriage. Here's an odd one. German brides believe that they will dominate their husband if they accidentally step on his foot at the altar.

Sorrow came early to Mark Twain, America's greatest humorist. His hair turned gray at the age of 23 after his brother burned to death in a steamboat explosion on the Mississippi River.

"Evolution is reducing the number of teeth in man," says a Wilmington, Del., doctor. This may be true, but most of the men we know who have had the number of their teeth reduced, blamed it on living, not evolution.

Our quotable notables: "The ability to make love frivolously," said Heywood Brown, "is the chief characteristic which distinguishes human beings from the beasts."

Thought for today: Glasses can change your personality—especially if you empty them often enough. It is estimated that each year 200,000 Americans becomes alcoholics, a fate faced by one of every 15 people who drink.

Fair warning: A state police sign in Hartford, Conn., warns motorists, "he who takes one for the road will get a trooper for a chaser."

Although more than 600 million books of all kinds are printed yearly in the United States, fewer than half of all Americans ever read a book that isn't required in school. And less than one out of five ever even buys a book.

Thoughtful definition: "A diplomat," says the Catholic Digest, "is a fellow who can be disarming, even though his country isn't."

Mr. K and U.S. Politics

By George Sokolsky

When Nikita Khrushchev postponed the Summit Conference six or eight months until after the American election, he indicated clearly that he was desirous of having a President suitable to himself. Some put this down to a gaucherie on the part of an astute but not too informed man. Perhaps, we felt charitably, Khrushchev did not understand that our system of election did not change the government, as they say in many European countries, but only the administration which generally speaking is the Executive Branch of the government. About one-third of the Senate and the whole of the House of Representatives stand for election but many, if not most, are reelected.

When Gromyko repeated the same idea in the United Nations, that is, that Russia would wait until a new President was elected, he indicated a direct, overt interference in the American election by Soviet Russia.

To have a look at this sort of thing, one has to go back to the Administration of John Adams, second President of the United States. In a special message to Congress, President John Adams, referring to conduct of the French government, said:

"... The speech of the (French) President discloses sentiments more alarming than the refusal of a minister, because more dangerous to our independence and union, and at the same time studiously marked with indignities toward the Government of the United States. It evinces a disposition to separate the people of the United States from the Government, to persuade them that they have different affections, principles, and interests from those of their fellow-citizens whom they themselves have chosen to manage their common concerns, and thus to produce divisions fatal to our peace. Such attempts ought to be repelled with a decision which shall convince France and the world that we are not a degraded people, humiliated under a colonial spirit of fear and sense of inferiority, fitted to be the miserable instrument of foreign influence, and regardless of national honor, character, and interest."

Then President Adams added: "I should have been happy to have thrown a veil over these transactions if it had been possible to conceal them; but they have passed on the great theater of the world, in the face of all Europe and America, and with such circumstances of publicity and solemnity that they can not be disguised and will not soon be forgotten."

It is interesting to note how closely President Adams responded to a situation which President Eisenhower faces today, about a century and a half later. The United States did not go to war with France because of the indignities which a revolutionary government put upon us. As a matter of fact, John Adams was succeeded by Thomas Jefferson who was more favorably disposed toward the French Revolution, but in his First Inaugural, Jefferson said:

"... I know, indeed, that some honest men fear that a republican government can not be strong, that this Government is not strong enough; but would the honest patriot, in the full tide of successful experiment, abandon a government which has so far kept us free and firm on the theoretic and visionary fear that this Government, the world's best hope, may by possibility want energy to preserve itself?"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE BATTLE OF THE BULGE, Hitler's last big gamble in World War II, was tough and go for days before American soldiers, many of them seeing action for the first time, finally sent the Nazi troops reeling back in disorder. While the battle was raging, however, both sides were hopelessly confused, with no such thing as a front or a rear in the tactical bedlam. Fog, snow and freezing temperatures added to the disorder, and so did German spies dressed in American uniforms.

John Toland tells the whole story of this crucial encounter in his fine book, Battle. He writes, "It reached a point when passwords had to be supplemented with quizzes. General Omar Bradley himself was tested by being asked to name the capital of Illinois and Betty Grable's husband. He flunked the last question cold, but the sentry let him pass after indulgently supplying the answer, 'Harry James, Sir.'"

Tell Kids Facts of Life

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Many persons can tell off - color stories and make a display of being worldly and sophisticated about matters of love. But when it comes to talking sensibly and seriously about sex to other adults or their own youngsters, they just can't do it.

Some persons suffer from a too severely suppressed type of training, which results in an emotional upset every time they hear sex discussed.

Because they lack adequate information, they resort to a standard folklore and picture a simplified romantic version of love. They have no regard for the difficulties and responsibilities that are involved.

This type of folklore depicts a standard adolescent with standard sex drives and standard childhood backgrounds. Actually, there is no such standard.

Each adolescent is different from all others, depending upon his physiology at the particular moment, his early childhood experiences, and whether he is bright or dull, aggressive or shy, sexually wise or unformed and many other factors.

There are two kinds of ignorance about sex.

One is a lack of information about bodily processes and the consequences that may follow from the misuse of sex.

The other is possession of false information, or information colored by unwholesome and unsocial attitudes.

Either type can be disastrous to the young person who does not have the experience to form his own scale of values.

Now I'm sure no high school chemistry teacher would take a beginning class into a laboratory filled with explosives and leave them there with no more guidance than to caution them:

"Don't blow yourselves up." Yet that is precisely the situation in which many teen-agers are left when it comes to sex. The responsibility for this lies solely with the parents.

Some persons try to inhibit sex activity by making it seem evil and wicked. As a doctor I know that looking upon sex in this manner develops guilt feelings and neuroses.

If you parents won't or can't tell your children about the facts of life, then, for heaven's sake, take them to your family doctor and let him do it.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — For 30 years the opening of a new decade has been like opening a can of devils. Each time American history was affected in a major way.

In 1930 the Great Depression, started by the market collapse late in 1929, got under way.

In 1940 the Germans, keeping the world guessing at the crushing of Poland in the fall of 1939, began World War II for real.

In 1950 the Korean war began. In 1960 the summit conference collapsed. American Soviet relations reached their lowest point in years. The presidents of South Korea and Turkey were forced out. The world was uneasy, and changes seemed in the air.

The depression pushed the United States into isolation. It became so preoccupied with its own problems that it turned inward to solve them.

The result was a social revolution called the New Deal.

In 1940—when the Nazis turned on France, the Low Countries and Britain—this country began to arm, move out of isolation, take sides, and realize this is a small, interdependent world.

This country finally got into the war, abandoned its isolation as a peace time policy afterwards, joined the United Nations, and developed a permanent sense of international responsibility and leadership.

Came 1950 and the Korean War. By entering it, the United States demonstrated it was willing to act to prove its international role.

Because it was the prime example of communism's determination to push where it could unless stopped, that war welded the Western allies together for mutual defense in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. All the alliances which followed sprang from that realization.

No one is brash enough to claim he has the answer to what changes the events of 1960 will bring about.

But each of the big events at the beginning of each decade since 1930 has had an effect on American politics.

Just a few weeks ago the summit collapse and the Eisenhower administration's fumbling and lying about the U2 spy plane seemed certain to be a dominant issue in this year's presidential campaign.

Then Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev began his boorish personal attacks on President Eisenhower. Most Democrats and Republicans closed ranks against Khrushchev and rallied behind the President.

Attacking the President, it seems, is a right which Americans reserve for themselves. They want foreigners to keep out.

U.S. Economic Stability May Be in Sight

Inflationary Spiral May Be Near Halt, Financiers Indicate

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—A long era geared to inflation may be coming to a halt. At least the top money managers act as if they think so.

If this seems to promise that the cost of living won't go on rising, it doesn't promise that prices will drop. We could be in for something rare to postwar America—stability.

Inflation's end has been heralded for several months. But Americans love symbols and the Federal Reserve discount rate is a symbol they go by—even if the immediate practical effect of last week's cut in the rate is small and debatable.

The discount rate is a symbol of the cost of money—how much must be paid to borrow it, how available credit is, which way prices and wages are headed, what the money men in Washington think the outlook for business is—boom or bust.

On the bread and butter side, the symbol of inflation is the cost of living index—showing whether prices on average are going up or down.

Inflation of money is a basic cause of rising prices. But in these days of managed economy there are other causes—a hard core of production costs that change little in bad times or good, frequently a control of over all output, and in many cases a solid floor of government subsidies.

But even the cost of living will have trouble growing if the seed bed of monetary inflation is to lie fallow.

There have been many signs that the era of inflation could be ending.

It has been several months now since any one was advised to buy common stocks as a hedge against inflation. When further inflation was a lively threat, and stock prices soaring, the price of bonds fell. That meant that interest rates (or yields) rose. But that was reversed a while back. The Federal Reserve has recognized the force of the trend by reversing its own rates.

The federal budget in the fiscal year ending this month will be near balance, with a small surplus probable. There is a hope of a larger surplus in the next fiscal year. The prime cause of monetary inflation—the Treasury deficit—won't be with us.

Business itself has offered a number of signs that the era of inflation was passing.

In many industries there is an excess of productive capacity. This is something the economy will grow up to in time. But it means that now there is no pressure to buy, every chance to shop for the best price.

Commodity price levels have changed little for some time. There are few shortages for inflation to feed on.

Inventory policies have changed noticeably. Since the first of the year factories have changed from building up stocks to keeping on hand just what they need. Apparently they neither fear that they won't be able to get more as they need it, nor that they might have to pay more for it if they waited. This shift away from inflation psychology is credited with being the prime cause of the slight downturn in industrial output, since final consumer sales have stayed high and generally on an uptrend.

Cheaper Borrowing Rate May Be Boon to Business

NEW YORK (AP)—Is business going to get a stimulating shot in the arm?

That question arose this week after the Federal Reserve Board approved a geographically limited cut in the discount rate.

The discount rate is the amount of interest charged when member banks borrow money from the reserve system. It usually is reflected in the rates the member banks charge their borrowers.

The rate cut from 4 per cent to 3½ per cent was okayed for the Federal Reserve banks in Philadelphia and San Francisco. Others in the 12-bank system were expected to follow but there was no rush.

Some financiers expected cheaper borrowing to propel business closer to the rate expected when the year began. They hoped the lagging homebuilding industry especially might benefit.

The key to the outlook was whether the reduction becomes general and whether the banks adjust their own interest rates proportionately. Some New York bankers said they doubted it.

The stock market perked up somewhat on the news as brokers felt that lower interest rates would make the yields of common stocks and bonds more attractive to investors.

In announcing the rate reduction, a representative of the reserve board said the action was taken because "the economy is on a solid base and the inflationary psychology has lessened."

Stock sales in the latest week totaled 14,591,370 shares compared with 15,975,965 the week before. Bond sales (par value) amounted to $24,385,000 in the latest week against $26,198,000 the previous week.

The steel and automobile industries slashed their outputs this week. The Memorial Day holiday was partly to blame. But new orders for steel remained slow.

Steel production slipped to 61.9 per cent of capacity, lowest since the week of Nov. 9. Last week's level was 65.6 per cent. Some producers took furnaces out of operation. Several thousand workers were idled. Most companies planned to get their closed facilities back into operation next week.

Automakers assembled an estimated 116,000 cars this week, down from 143,555 last week and 125,553 a year ago.

But the outlook was good with an estimated production of 623,000 cars in June, which would make it the best June since 1955. Sales sagged in the appliance industry last month. Factory inventories of finished goods reached the highest levels of the year, shipments slumped under the rate of a year ago and there was some price cutting.

Retail trade again slipped below the level of a year ago. Cool, wet weather dampened enthusiasm for buying summer merchandise.

People were buying more things on credit. The Federal Reserve Board announced that outstanding consumer instalment credit in April showed the biggest monthly expansion, 533 million dollars, since last August.

The Commerce Department reported that inventories and business sales climbed to record peaks in April.

Briefly around the business scene: "bus-back" is the newest wrinkle in freight transportation; Railway Express Agency is making shipments in 1½-ton trailers attached to intercity buses. Employees of a Trenton, N.J., toy factory raised enough money to buy the million-dollar plant and save their jobs; the company had planned to transfer operations to the South. The summit collapse knocked out a New York dealer's plans to spend $550,000 promoting sales of the Russian Moskvitch car. Retail price increases on men's fall suits will range from $3 to $10.

Fortunately for the lovers of sweet music, Lawrence was made of stern stuff. He persevered and in 1925 got an offer to form his own band and join a medicine

U.S. Economic Stability May Be in Sight

Inflationary Spiral May Be Near Halt, Financiers Indicate

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—A long era geared to inflation may be coming to a halt. At least the top money managers act as if they think so.

If this seems to promise that the cost of living won't go on rising, it doesn't promise that prices will drop. We could be in for something rare to postwar America—stability.

Inflation's end has been heralded for several months. But Americans love symbols and the Federal Reserve discount rate is a symbol they go by—even if the immediate practical effect of last week's cut in the rate is small and debatable.

The discount rate is a symbol of the cost of money—how much must be paid to borrow it, how available credit is, which way prices and wages are headed, what the money men in Washington think the outlook for business is—boom or bust.

On the bread and butter side, the symbol of inflation is the cost of living index—showing whether prices on average are going up or down.

Inflation of money is a basic cause of rising prices. But in these days of managed economy there are other causes—a hard core of production costs that change little in bad times or good, frequently a control of over all output, and in many cases a solid floor of government subsidies.

But even the cost of living will have trouble growing if the seed bed of monetary inflation is to lie fallow.

Lawrence Welk Admits He Can Really Read Music Now

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It was just 35 years ago that Lawrence Welk started his own band—because he couldn't read music!

Fortunately for the lovers of sweet music, Lawrence was made of stern stuff. He persevered and in 1925 got an offer to form his own band and join a medicine show. That was the start of the Welk dynasty that now extends to television, records, ballrooms and all over.

But it wasn't easy, he admitted. Welk bubbled his champagne music for almost a quarter-century before making a dent on the national consciousness.

He never really hit big until he came to California and started playing at the Aragon ballroom on a four-week stand. Nine years later, he is still playing the Pacific Ocean Park dance palace on weekends. He started a local TV show from there, then moved to the ABC network.

His style? It hasn't changed much since his Dakota days.

"We still play music with the champagne style, which means light and rhythmic," he explained. "We place the stress on melody; the chords are played pretty much the way the composer wrote them. We play with a steady beat so that dancers can follow it."

Welk conceded that his music is often labeled corn, but added: "It doesn't worry me."

Oh, yes—he can read music now. "I'm slow, but I get along pretty good," he said. I picked it up from other musicians over the years."

GOOD ENOUGH FOR COMPANY: Salmon steaks accompanied by a cream sauce holding golden nuggets of carrots should please any guest.

Salmon Richly Deserved Bridal Shower Sandwiches

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Salmon's reputation for being an epicurean food is richly deserved. Steaks cut from the fish can be attractive supper-party fare. Easy to prepare and serve, they are rich enough to make guests feel sumptuously fed.

If the steaks are broiled or pan-fried you can do no better than to offer them with lemon wedges, fresh asparagus or green peas and new potatoes doused with butter and minced fresh dill.

When the salmon steaks are steamed and served hot, Hollandaise and broccoli are delicious go-alongs.

If the steamed steaks are to be served chilled, take a cue from fine chefs and offer them with cooked green peas, diced carrots and sliced snap beans folded into homemade mayonnaise. This version of the classic Salade Russe may have a crisp American addition—finely diced celery.

Another great accompaniment to chilled steamed salmon is finely diced cucumber folded into sour cream or sour-cream substitute. We have mentioned the latter so often that by this time our readers probably remember that we make it in an electric blender with an 8-ounce carton of cream-style cottage cheese (small or large curd), 1/4 to 1-3 cup butter milk or fresh milk, 1 tablespoon of lemon or lime juice and a dash of salt. We strongly recommend the formula to weight-watchers.

On a cool day we like to cook the steaks in the oven and use any pan juices in a white sauce to which we add oven-steamed carrots. This doesn't sound exciting, but wait till you taste it! The carrots become richly sweet and add color and flavor to the sauce. Light cream instead of milk may be used in the white sauce but in this day of calorie-counters and budget-watchers we find it quite smooth and delicious as it is.

SALMON STEAKS WITH CREAMY CARROTS

Ingredients: 4 salmon steaks (about 1 1/4 pounds), butter or margarine, 2 medium-sized carrots, salt, 2 tablespoons flour, milk, 1 tablespoon medium or dry sherry, white pepper, parsley.

Method: Arrange salmon steaks in 1 layer in a foil-lined shallow pan just large enough to hold them; brush with melted butter. With swivel-blade vegetable peeler, pare carrots and cut crosswise into thin rounds. Pile carrots onto a foil rectangle; dot with 1/2 tablespoon butter and sprinkle with 2 tablespoons water. Bring up long ends of foil to meet and fold over double; fold over ends several times to seal. Bake salmon and carrots in foil in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 20 minutes or until fish flakes easily. Remove fish and carrots. Lift steaks with wide spatula to serving dish turning them over (for best appearance) and keep warm; sprinkle with salt. Pour salmon liquid into a measure; add enough milk to make 1 cup. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a 1-quart saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Add milk mixture; cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened and bubbly. Add carrots and salt and pepper to taste; reheat if necessary. Stir in sherry. Spoon around salmon steaks; garnish fish with parsley—minced or in sprigs. Makes 4 servings.

Note: If salmon steaks are frozen, thaw before using.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Your 'Ethics' Are Showing

DEAR ABBY: I fell in love with a young dentist. He is married but I've seen his wife and she's not so hot. I am much cuter.

Well, I wanted to get to know him better so I made an appointment. There was absolutely nothing wrong with my teeth because I had just been to my own dentist and he said so. But this young dentist took a full mouth X-ray for which he charged me $30. Then he cleaned my teeth for $10. Now he tells me I have four impacted wisdom teeth that must be extracted. He says that will cost $150.

All this time he gave me no encouragement. My girlfriend says I should report him to the Dental Society for unethical practices. Should I?

GYPPED

DEAR GYPPE: For a girl who deliberately made an appointment with a married dentist for the purpose of "getting to know him better"—you have a lot of nerve complaining about "ethics". If you question his professional judgment, see another dentist for strictly professional reasons.

DEAR ABBY: We bought this house four years ago and never had the money to put in a lawn, so we had just about two thirds of an acre of bare dirt to the side and back.

We have three boys—6, 10 and 12—and they like to play outside. All the kids in the neighborhood come to play in our yard. I have put up with yelling and screaming for four years, and our yard is the worst looking yard on the block.

Now that we can afford it, I told my husband to dig up the dirt and plant grass and some shrubs. The boys put up a fight, saying it would spoil their play place. I say they can play on the school grounds five blocks away, but they say the bigger boys chase them away. Am I wrong to want a decent-looking yard for once in my life?

LIKES GRASS

DEAR LIKES GRASS: The years when you can look out your kitchen window and see children playing are too few and fly by too swiftly. When the boys go off to college—or to their Uncle Sam—you'll have plenty of time to admire the grass. Dirt can be beautiful!

DEAR ABBY: My husband has the world's worst taste when it comes to buying me a gift of clothing. When I open one of these packages I can hardly keep a straight face. How does a wife go about telling her husband she appreciates the "thought" but she'd rather have the money? Or at least let her go shopping without him to make sure some unscrupulous sales person doesn't stick him with something she wanted to get rid of?

DEAR STUCK: Now is the time for some diplomatic frankness. Tell hubby you know how hard he works for his money and, as his partner and helpmate, you want to be sure he gets his money's worth, so you want to go along to be sure he does. Now what husband in his right mind could refuse that kind of an offer?

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

GOOD ENOUGH FOR COMPANY: Salmon steaks accompanied by a cream sauce holding golden nuggets of carrots should please any guest.

Salmon Richly Deserved Bridal Shower Sandwiches

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Salmon's reputation for being an epicurean food is richly deserved. Steaks cut from the fish can be attractive supper-party fare. Easy to prepare and serve, they are rich enough to make guests feel sumptuously fed.

If the steaks are broiled or pan-fried you can do no better than to offer them with lemon wedges, fresh asparagus or green peas and new potatoes doused with butter and minced fresh dill.

When the salmon steaks are steamed and served hot, Hollandaise and broccoli are delicious go-alongs.

If the steamed steaks are to be served chilled, take a cue from fine chefs and offer them with cooked green peas, diced carrots and sliced snap beans folded into homemade mayonnaise. This version of the classic Salade Russe may have a crisp American addition—finely diced celery.

Another great accompaniment to chilled steamed salmon is finely diced cucumber folded into sour cream or sour-cream substitute. We have mentioned the latter so often that by this time our readers probably remember that we make it in an electric blender with an 8-ounce carton of cream-style cottage cheese (small or large curd), 1/4 to 1-3 cup butter milk or fresh milk, 1 tablespoon of lemon or lime juice and a dash of salt. We strongly recommend the formula to weight-watchers.

On a cool day we like to cook the steaks in the oven and use any pan juices in a white sauce to which we add oven-steamed carrots. This doesn't sound exciting, but wait till you taste it! The carrots become richly sweet and add color and flavor to the sauce. Light cream instead of milk may be used in the white sauce but in this day of calorie-counters and budget-watchers we find it quite smooth and delicious as it is.

SALMON STEAKS WITH CREAMY CARROTS
Ingredients: 4 salmon steaks (about 1 1/2 pounds), butter or margarine, 2 medium-sized carrots, salt, 2 tablespoons flour, milk, 1 tablespoon medium or dry sherry, white pepper, parsley.

Method: Arrange salmon steaks in 1 layer in a foil-lined shallow pan just large enough to hold them; brush with melted butter. With swivel-blade vegetable peeler, pare carrots and cut crosswise into thin rounds. Pile carrots onto a foil rectangle; dot with 1/2 tablespoon butter and sprinkle with 2 tablespoons water. Bring up long ends of foil to meet and fold over double; fold over ends several times to seal. Bake salmon and carrots in-foil in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 20 minutes or until fish flakes easily. Remove fish and carrots. Lift steaks with wide spatula to serving dish turning them over (for best appearance) and keep warm; sprinkle with salt. Pour salmon liquid into a measure; add enough milk to make 1 cup. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a 1-quart saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Add milk mixture; cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened and bubbly. Add carrots and salt and pepper to taste; reheat if necessary. Stir in sherry. Spoon around salmon steaks; garnish fish with parsley—minced or in sprigs. Makes 4 servings.

Note: If salmon steaks are frozen, thaw before using.

Sen. Young May Ask End to Soviet-U.S. Tie

WILBERFORCE Ohio (AP)—Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) says he will propose in the Senate that the United States sever diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union if Premier Khrushchev continues his vilification of President Eisenhower.

Young told a newsmen Sunday while here to address graduates of Central State College, that the U.S. should withdraw its ambassador from Moscow for consultation and retain him here indefinitely "if that Communist dictator continues his vilification and bombasting of the President."

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Your 'Ethics' Are Showing

DEAR ABBY: I fell in love with a young dentist. He is married but I've seen his wife and she's not so hot. I am much cuter.

Well, I wanted to get to know him better so I made an appointment. There was absolutely nothing wrong with my teeth because I had just been to my own dentist and he said so. But this young dentist took a full mouth X-ray for which he charged me $30. Then he cleaned my teeth for $10. Now he tells me I have four impacted wisdom teeth that must be extracted. He says that will cost $150.

All this time he gave me no encouragement. My girlfriend says I should report him to the Dental Society for unethical practices. Should I?

DEAR GYPPE: For a girl who deliberately made an appointment with a married dentist for the purpose of "getting to know him better"—you have a lot of nerve complaining about "ethics". If you question his professional judgment, see another dentist for strictly professional reasons.

DEAR ABBY: We bought this house four years ago and never had the money to put in a lawn, so we had just about two thirds of an acre of bare dirt to the side and back.

We have three boys—6, 10 and 12—and they like to play outside. All the kids in the neighborhood come to play in our yard. I have put up with yelling and screaming for four years, and our yard is the worst looking yard on the block.

Now that we can afford it, I told my husband to dig up the dirt and plant grass and some shrubs. The boys put up a fight, saying it would spoil their play place. I say they can play on the school grounds five blocks away, but they say the bigger boys chase them away. Am I wrong to want a decent-looking yard for once in my life?

LIKES GRASS

DEAR LIKES GRASS: The years when you can look out your kitchen window and see children playing are too few and fly by too swiftly. When the boys go off to college—or to their Uncle Sam—you'll have plenty of time to admire the grass. Dirt can be beautiful!

Hapless Hurlers Paying Off Big For Chisox

One-Time Has-Beens
Sparkle for Veeck
In Pair of Shutouts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chicago White Sox boss Bill Veeck created a lot of excitement in the Windy City by landing such big fish as Minnie Minoso, Gene Freese and Roy Sievers in major trades since the close of last season.

There was hardly a ripple, however, when he hauled in a couple of nondescript pitchers, southpaw Frank Baumann and right-hander Russ Kemmerer, in minor transactions with rival American league clubs.

Yet it's just because of these one-time hapless hurlers that the defending champions are back in the thick of the AL pennant race today, only three games behind the first-place Baltimore Orioles.

Kemmerer, who rarely won for Washington, and Baumann, oft-beaten with Boston, turned in back-to-back 2-0 shutouts in the White Sox doubleheader sweep over Kansas City Sunday.

The 28-year-old Kemmerer, purchased May 18, doled out three hits to win his second since joining the Sox. Baumann, obtained in a winter trade for first base flop Ron Jackson, limited the A's to seven hits in the nightcap for his second straight shutout.

The double triumph enabled the third-place Sox to climb to within one game of runner-up Cleveland, which split with Detroit. The Indians won 9-0 after the Tigers had taken the opener 7-2. Baltimore widened its lead to two games over the Indians with a 6-5 decision in Washington. New York slapped down Boston twice 3-4 and 8-3.

Chicago newcomers Freese and Minoso also were key operators in the White Sox' first game victory. Freese doubled in the fourth and scored on Luis Aparicio's single to end a scoreless pitching duel between Kemmerer and Dick Hall. Minoso's seventh homer added an insurance run in the sixth.

Another comparative White Sox newcomer, Ted Kluszewski, scored the first run in the nightcap after hitting a double in the second inning. Schem Lollar's single scored him. Ned Garver, who had to have after two innings because of a knee injury, was tagged with his fifth loss.

The Sox have won six of their last 12. Baumann and Kemmerer have been responsible for four of the triumphs.

You'll have to pardon the Pittsburgh Pirates if they refuse to sympathize with the oft-defeated, much-depleted and last-seeded Philadelphia Phillies.

In the opener, Pittsburgh managed 10 hits off Gene Conley but the 6-8 right-hander did not permit a Pirate runner to go beyond second base. The Bucs also out-hit the Phils in the nightcap, but they barely avoided being shut out again, by Jim Owens, thanks to Dick Stuart's homer in the eighth.

St. Louis' 9-4 triumph over San Francisco enabled the Pirates to finish the day with a one-game lead over the Giants. Milwaukee closed to within 4½ of the lead by splitting with Cincinnati. The Braves won 4-1 after Cincinnati had copped the opener 3-2. Chicago's Cubs outslugged Los Angeles 12-8.

3 Top Stars
In Playoff in Memphis Open

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) A dramatic playoff in the $30,000 Memphis Open today had three of golf's greats swinging for top money — Ben Hogan, Tommy Bolt and Gene Littler.

They made the regulation 72 holes over the 6,500-yard par course in 7-under-par 273s to top a 144-man field.

It was a cliff hanger finish. Hogan's game still shaky after a scrambling 73 that cost him the lead birdied two under pressure to come back up. The Fort Worth hawk carded his final bird on the 18th for a final 68.

Making his run after starting the fourth round three strokes off the pace Bolt shook off a jolting hospital bulletin to make a full steam finish with birds on 17 and 18 for a 67.

And Littler charged in from deep in the ranks leapfrogging 18 names on the scoreboard with a smooth 32-32—64. The slender San Diego pro had taken a 74 on his first 18 and barely made the half-way cutoff.

Bolt of Crystal River Fla. was on the 16th green when notified that his wife Mary Lou was undergoing surgery at a hospital here. She has been ailing since the birth of a son last November.

Physicians said she came through the hour-long operation in good shape. But the scheduled sudden death playoff was switched to an 18-hole round so Bolt could head for the hospital.

Top Sidewheelers Due
Thursday, Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The best of the nation's pacers, plus four top performers from Down Under and Canada, go at it again this week in the most important events on the national harness racing card.

The sidewheelers match strides in the second leg of the $50,000 International Pace at Yonkers Raceway Thursday and in the Scioto Downs (Ohio) leg of the Harness Tracks of America (HTA) Pacing Series Saturday.

Widower Creed won the first leg of the International last Thursday in world record equalling time as Caduceus. New Zealand's wonder horse, finished fourth and the highly regarded American pacer, Bye Bye Byrd, was last in the 1½-mile test.

The threesom will be back for Thursday's 1¼-mile race with O'Brien Hanover, Speedy Pick, Champ Volo and Mighty Dudley are from Canada. Fettle, the Australian entry who was held out of last week's race because of a minor injury, is expected to be in the starting line-up.

Three of the four winners in the HTA Pacing Series are entered at Scioto Downs. They are Culver Pick, who turned in the fastest time of 2:03 4/5 in the two divisions at Hazel Park Saturday; Adios Butler, winner at Maywood, and Royal Pick, victor at Lebanon. Only Mr. Budlong, winner at Rosecroft, is expected to be absent.

Surprise of the two divisions raced at Hazel Park was the defeat of Adios Butler by Syndicate in the slow time of 2:08 over a muddy track. Adios Butler was the champion 3-year-old of 1959 and recently was purchased by a 16-man group for $600,000. Syndicate also is slated to race Saturday at Scioto Downs.

Little League
Membership Drive Success

The Circleville Little and Babe Ruth Leagues' membership drive collected a total of $567 Saturday in its first annual door-to-door canvass of the city and surrounding areas.

League officials were pleased with the result which was hampered by the time element and newness of the drive. Results are not complete on the drive.

Approximately 300 Little and Babe Ruth Leaguers canvassed the area selling membership cards. Proceeds from the drive go toward paying the insurance fund which covers all baseball program participants including umpires, managers, coaches, scorekeepers and players.

Insurance needed will cost $271. All money received in excess of the insurance fund will go toward miscellaneous league expenses not covered by sponsors' donations, and Kiwanis funds.

FOLLOWING the drive which was held Saturday afternoon all players met at the National Guard Armory for Cokes, donated by the local Coca Cola Bottling Co., and cookies.

A movie, shown by the Standard Oil Co. climaxed the afternoon. Kiwanis led all teams in selling membership cards, returning $74. Kiwanis' Jack Cook was the top card seller with more than $32 to his credit.

League President Michael R. Harrison and its secretary-treasurer, James I. Smith III, today thanked the community and surrounding area for their cooperation in the drive and their courtesy to the youths.

Piersall Delights His Fans, Irks Detroit with Antics

—CLEVELAND (AP) Jittery Jim Piersall has introduced a new Little League style batter's helmet into the American League to the delight of local fans and the fury of the Detroit Tigers against who the Cleveland centerfielder felt he needed protection.

The helmet, an oversize job with ear flaps, was donned by Piersall when he came to bat in the fifth inning of Sunday's nightcap. On the mound was southpaw Pete Burnside off whom Piersall clubbed his seventh home run of the season in the third inning.

In running out his homer, Piersall came into third base full speed then stopped, doffed his cap and shouted at the Detroit dugout.

When he came up in the fifth, Piersall got such a riding from Detroit catcher Red Wilson that Umpire John Flaherty stepped between them.

Burnside's first two pitches went inside, causing Piersall to jump back, and the third one appeared to be aimed at Piersall as he moved out of the box. This caused Flaherty to rush to the mound to warn Burnside about throwing at the batter a warning — that carried an automatic $50 fine.

Piersall left the game for the rubbing table after the sixth inning and when the game was over General Manager Frank Lane kept reporters from talking to him.

Lane said Piersall, who suffered a nervous breakdown in 1952, was "very tired and crying."

"Give him a break, fellows," Lane said. "You can't talk to him now. He's been trying to umpire, play centerfield, help the ground crew and do a few other things."

The helmet Piersall wore was Lane's idea. Lane got it about ten days ago after ordering it designed by a sporting goods manufacturer because he feels all batters should wear better protective head gear. Lane said he was looking for someone to try it out.

Manager Joe Gordon said he removed Piersall because the centerfielder "became sick to his stomach and dizzy."

"He's an emotional, high-strung guy and simply became exhausted," Gordon said. "His leaving the game had nothing to do with the incident up there at bat."

Gordon said he "told Jim he was asking for it wearing that big helmet, but he said they were going to throw at him anyway, and he wanted the protection."

Hapless Hurlers Paying Off Big For Chisox

One-Time Has-Beens
Sparkle for Veeck
In Pair of Shutouts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chicago White Sox boss Bill Veeck created a lot of excitement in the Windy City by landing such big fish as Minnie Minoso, Gene Freese and Roy Sievers in major trades since the close of last season.

There was hardly a ripple, however, when he hauled in a couple of nondescript pitchers, southpaw Frank Baumann and right-hander Russ Kemmerer, in minor transactions with rival American league clubs.

Yet it's just because of these one-time hapless hurlers that the defending champions are back in the thick of the AL pennant race today, only three games behind the first-place Baltimore Orioles.

Kemmerer, who rarely won for Washington, and Baumann, often beaten with Boston, turned in back-to-back 2-0 shutouts in the White Sox doubleheader sweep over Kansas City Sunday.

The 28-year-old Kemmerer, purchased May 18, doled out three hits to win his second since joining the Sox. Baumann, obtained in a winter trade for first base flop Ron Jackson, limited the A's to seven hits in the nightcap for his second straight shutout.

The double triumph enabled the third-place Sox to climb to within one game of runner-up Cleveland, which split with Detroit. The Indians won 9-0 after the Tigers had taken the opener 7-2. Baltimore widened its lead to two games over the Indians with a 6-5 decision in Washington. New York slapped down Boston twice 3-4 and 8-3.

Chicago newcomers Freese and Minoso also were key operators in the White Sox' first game victory. Freese doubled in the fourth and scored on Luis Aparicio's single to end a coreless pitching duel between Kemmerer and Dick Hall. Minoso's seventh homer added an insurance run in the sixth.

Another comparative White Sox newcomer, Ted Kluszewski, scored the first run in the nightcap after hitting a double in the second inning. Sherm Lollar's single scored him. Ned Garver, who had to have after two innings because of a knee injury, was tagged with his fifth loss.

The Sox have won six of their last 12. Baumann and Kemmerer have been responsible for four of the triumphs.

You'll have to pardon the Pittsburgh Pirates if they refuse to sympathize with the oft-defeated, much-depleted and last-seeded Philadelphia Phillies.

In the opener, Pittsburgh managed 10 hits off Gene Conley but the 6-8 right-hander did not permit a Pirate runner to go beyond second base. The Bucs also out-hit the Phils in the nightcap, but they barely avoided being shut out again, by Jim Owens, thanks to Dick Stuart's homer in the eighth.

St. Louis' 9-4 triumph over San Francisco enabled the Pirates to finish the day with a one-game lead over the Giants. Milwaukee closed to within 4½ of the lead by splitting with Cincinnati. The Braves won 4-1 after Cincinnati had copped the opener 3-2. Chicago's Cubs outslugged Los Angeles 12-8.

3 Top Stars In Playoff in Memphis Open

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A dramatic playoff in the $30,000 Memphis Open today had three of golf's greats swinging for top money—Ben Hogan, Tommy Bolt and Gene Littler.

They made the regulation 72 holes over the 6,500-yard par course in 7-under-par 273s to top a 144-man field.

It was a cliff hanger finish. Hogan's game still shaky after a scrambling 73 that cost him the lead birdied two under pressure to come back up. The Fort Worth hawk carded his final bird on the 18th for a final 68.

Making his run after starting the fourth round three strokes off the pace Bolt shook off a jolting hospital bulletin to make a full steam finish with birds on 17 and 18 for a 67.

And Littler charged in from deep in the ranks leapfrogging 18 names on the scoreboard with a smooth 32-32-64. The slender San Diego pro had taken a 74 on his first 18 and barely made the half-way cutoff.

Bolt of Crystal River Fla. was on the 16th green when notified that his wife Mary Lou was undergoing surgery at a hospital here. She has been ailing since the birth of a son last November.

Physicians said she came through the hour-long operation in good shape. But the scheduled sudden death play-off was switched to an 18-hole round so Bolt could head for the hospital.

Nervousness Continues To Plague Purkey

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Bob Purkey says he gets nervous before a game. And that sometimes the middle innings give him trouble, too.

He had some of both kinds of nervousness against Milwaukee Sunday, but with one inning of help from Bill Henry, pitched the Cincinnati Reds out of a five-game slump with a 3-2 win.

The Reds lost the nightcap, 4-1. Purkey scattered nine hits before Henry locked up the last inning.

Billy Martin, on the third pitch of the game, gave Purkey a one-run lead with his second home run of the year. Roy McMillan's eighth homer in the fourth inning broke a 1-1 tie. Vada Pinson's fifth home run of 1960 shattered a 2-2 knot and ended the scoring.

Juan Pizarro, going the distance for the Braves, gave up only two hits besides the fatal homers. Wes Covington socked one for Milwaukee.

Redleg Manager Fred Hutchinson had needed his players scathingly in a closed-door meeting before the game.

One player said the manager, known to break furniture after a loss, gave a 10-minute tongue-lashing on errors, carelessness and indifferent play.

Then Hutchinson tried a batting order juggle. In the opener, Gus Bell dropped to sixth from third, Martin moved to leadoff from seventh and Eddie Kasko dropped from leadoff to third.

In the second game, Frank Robinson, who has batted cleanup since opening day, was put sixth in the order. Kasko went back to leadoff. Ed Bailey was third, Jerry Lynch fourth, Bell fifth and Martin seventh.

In the nightcap, Joe Nuxhall cooked up a three-hitter for seven innings, but was tattooed for three runs in the eighth.

Jets Victims Of Toronto

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Toronto Maple Leafs and Buffalo Bisons are rapidly turning the International League championship race into a two-team affair, and the midway point of the season is still more than a month away.

Both won doubleheaders Sunday, with the Leafs getting their sixth straight victory and 17th in the last 19 decisions with 7-3 and 6-3 triumphs over Columbus. This left them a three-game edge on second-place Buffalo, 9-1 and 5-1 victors over Havana, 10-9 games back in third place. Last-place Montreal is 19 games off the pace.

Rochester defeated Miami 9-3 then lost the nightcap of a doubleheader 6-2 while Montreal won over Richmond 8-7 in a 10-inning first game and the Vees took the second 12-8 to gain a split.

Earl Hersh's three-run, final-inning homer sparked a five-run rally to give reliever Russ Heman his fifth victory without a loss in Toronto's nightcap triumph. Right-hander Ron Negray (6-1) took the opener. Leo Rodriguez and Ray Mejias homered for Columbus, in the second and first game respectively.

Bell Falters But Locke Cheers Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP) — Just about the time Cleveland Indians fans were feeling bad about Gary Bell losing his third straight, along came this new (again) right-hander, Bobby Locke, and things got brighter.

Locke 26-year-old Pennsylvanian who was recalled last Thursday from Indianapolis where he had won six and lost two pitched his first complete major league game — a 9-0 six-hit conquest of the Detroit Tigers.

The Indians lost the first game 7-2, with Bell yielding eight hits and five runs. Gary was removed in the sixth inning after Rocky Colavito hit his seventh home run of the season; Chico Fernandez doubled, and Eddie Yost singled him home.

The split dropped the Indians another half game back of the pace — setting Baltimore Orioles who defeated Washington 6-5 to take a two-game edge.

Jim Bunning handcuffed Cleveland with six hits in the opener one a homer by Ken Aspromonte in the eighth. Jim Piersall singled in Walt Bond, who had walked, for the other Cleveland score in the third.

Piersall's seventh homer of the season in the third inning of the nightcap came after Locke had walked and broke a scoreless tie. That homer was off Pete Burnside who drew a $50 fine from Umpire John Flaherty for throwing at the Cleveland centerfielder when Piersall came to bat in the fifth.

Nervousness Continues To Plague Purkey

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Bob Purkey says he gets nervous before a game. And that sometimes the middle innings give him trouble, too.

He had some of both kinds of nervousness against Milwaukee Sunday, but with one inning of help from Bill Henry, pitched the Cincinnati Reds out of a five-game slump with a 3-2 win.

The Reds lost the nightcap, 4-1. Purkey scattered nine hits before Henry locked up the last inning.

Billy Martin, on the third pitch of the game, gave Purkey a one-run lead with his second home run of the year. Roy McMillan's eighth homer in the fourth inning broke a 1-1 tie. Vada Pinson's fifth home run of 1960 shattered a 2-2 knot and ended the scoring.

Juan Pizarro, going the distance for the Braves, gave up only two hits besides the fatal homer. Wes Covington socked one for Milwaukee.

Redleg Manager Fred Hutchinson had needed his players scathingly in a closed-door meeting before the game.

One player said the manager, known to break furniture after a loss, gave a 10-minute tongue-lashing on errors, carelessness and indifferent play.

Then Hutchinson tried a batting order juggle. In the opener, Gus Bell dropped to sixth from third, Martin moved to leadoff from seventh and Eddie Kasko dropped from leadoff to third.

In the second game, Frank Robinson, who has batted cleanup since opening day, was put sixth in the order. Kasko went back to leadoff, Ed Bailey was third, Jerry Lynch fourth, Bell fifth and Martin seventh.

In the nightcap, Joe Nuxhall cooked up a three-hitter for seven innings, but was tattooed for three runs in the eighth.

Jets Victims Of Toronto

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Toronto Maple Leafs and Buffalo Bisons are rapidly turning the International League championship race into a two team affair, and the midway point of the season is still more than a month away.

Both won doubleheaders Sunday, with the Leafs getting their sixth straight victory and 17th in the last 19 decisions with 7-3 and 6-3 triumphs over Columbus. This left them a three-game edge on second-place Buffalo, 9-1 and 5-1 victors over Havana, 10½ games back in third place. Last-place Montreal is 19 games off the pace.

Rochester defeated Miami 9-3 then lost the nightcap of a doubleheader 6-2 while Montreal won over Richmond 8-7 in a 10-inning first game and the Vees took the second 12-8 to gain a split.

Earl Hersh's three-run, final inning homer sparked a five-run rally to give reliever Russ Heman his fifth victory without a loss in Toronto's nightcap triumph. Right-hander Ron Negray (6-1) took the opener. Leo Rodriguez and Ray Mejias homered for Columbus, in the second and first game respectively.

WHERE IN SPACE AND WHY—With the addition of the United States experimental "missile spotter" Midas II, a whole family of robot spaceworkers are now sending back to earth an assortment of information, invaluable to scientists preparing man for his future voyage toward the "vertical horizon." This chart shows the ten satellites, including the Soviet "space ship," now in orbit around the earth. In addition, Pioneer IV, Pioneer V, and the Soviet Lunik I are far out in space, orbiting around the sun. The box score so far: Soviet Russia has put five satellites into orbit, of which only one, the "Space Ship," remains. Russia has launched three space probes, one of which Lunik II, impacted the moon and was destroyed. Another Lunik III, reportedly took photos of the far side of the moon, went into long, looping orbit around the earth, and was believed to have dropped into the earth's atmosphere and burned up. The United States has launched 19 satellites into orbit. Nine of these are still in orbit. Of four space probes launched by the United States, two are still in solar orbit; they are Pioneer IV and Pioneer V.

Defense Near End in Sniper Killing Case

FAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The defense neared the end of its case today in the trial of Floyd E. Hargrove who is charged with killing the husband of the woman he testified he still loves.

The state maintains the handsome delivery truck driver fired a sniper bullet that killed Charles R. Clark in the Clark home last Christmas Eve because he coveted Clark's beautiful wife, Lois, 31.

But Louis A. Turi Jr., Hargrove's lawyer, insists the slaying was "a terrible, freakish accident." He has tried to persuade the jury that someone who was target-shooting accidentally fired the rifle slug that pierced Clark's forehead after it crashed through the kitchen window of the Clark's home in Mentor.

"Some kid is now quaking in his boots every time he hears about the shooting," the lawyer said. "... the police merely concluded Floyd Hargrove was a likely suspect and have thrown the full force of their efforts toward his conviction."

Hargrove last week repudiated statements he had made to authorities admitting the shooting.

The prosecution is expected to recall Lake County Sheriff William B. Evans and Mentor Police Chief Frank D. Hathay as rebuttal witnesses.

The jury of 11 men and one woman who began hearing the case May 17 may get the case Wednesday or Thursday.

SOVIET MINER SEEKS ASYLUM—Anatoly Nakashidze (middle), member of a delegation of Soviet mine workers touring Scotland, walked into the police station in Edinburgh and asked for political asylum. Nakashidze, 28, an engineer and industrial manager from Soviet Georgia, is shown with American singer Paul Robeson (left) and Abe Moffat, head of the Scottish mine workers' union.

WHERE IN SPACE AND WHY—With the addition of the United States experimental "missile spotter" Midas II, a whole family of robot spacecrafts are now sending back to earth an assortment of information, invaluable to scientists preparing man for his future voyage toward the "vertical horizon." This chart shows the ten satellites, including the Soviet "space ship," now in orbit around the earth. In addition, Pioneer IV, Pioneer V, and the Soviet Lunik I are far out in space, orbiting around the sun. The box score to date: Soviet Russia has put five satellites into orbit, of which only one, the "Space Ship," remains. Russia has launched three space probes, one of which Lunik II, impacted the moon and was destroyed. Another Lunik III, reportedly took photos of the far side of the moon, went into long, looping orbit around the earth, and was believed to have dropped into the earth's atmosphere and burned up. The United States has launched 19 satellites into orbit. Nine of these are still in orbit. Of four space probes launched by the United States, two are still in solar orbit; they are Pioneer IV and Pioneer V.

Defense Near End in Sniper Killing Case

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The defense neared the end of its case today in the trial of Floyd E. Hargrove who is charged with killing the husband of the woman he testified he still loves.

The state maintains the handsome delivery truck driver fired a sniper bullet that killed Charles R. Clark in the Clark home last Christmas Eve because he coveted Clark's beautiful wife, Lois, 31.

But Louis A. Turi Jr., Hargrove's lawyer, insists the slaying was "a terrible, freakish accident." He has tried to persuade the jury that someone who was target-shooting accidentally fired the rifle slug that pierced Clark's forehead after it crashed through the kitchen window of the Clark's home in Mentor.

"Some kid is now quaking in his boots every time he hears about the shooting," the lawyer said. "... the police merely concluded Floyd Hargrove was a likely suspect and have thrown the full force of their efforts toward his conviction."

SOVIET MINER SEEKS ASYLUM—Anatoly Nakashidze (middle), member of a delegation of Soviet mine workers touring Scotland, walked into the police station in Edinburgh and asked for political asylum. Nakashidze, 28, an engineer and industrial manager from Soviet Georgia, is shown with American singer Paul Robeson (left) and Abe Moffat, head of the Scottish mine workers union.

'AW, COME ON OUT, 'NEIGH'—Tommy, a horse who pulls a fruit and vegetable cart all day in Chicago, either fell or trotted down the steps into an unused basement of his stable, and he refused to climb back up the narrow stairway. U-2, MR. K?—Map locates the area where Soviet spy ships are operating off Britain's secret Hebrides islands rocket range and jamming vital communications. Lighthouse keepers at Butt of Lewis, where the rocket range lies, said they picked up Russian radio messages from "trawlers" ostensibly fishing. Reports said the trawlers were tracking missiles being tested from the Isle of South Uist.

BEST OF ATTENTION—That sick Soviet seaman who was brought to Atlantic City, N. J., for treatment by the Soviet trawler he was aboard was getting the best of attention when this photo was made. He is Ivan Baluk, 26. Nurses are Gloria Kotansky (left) and Nancy Maros.
